Discover Your God-Given Destiny

Dear Friend,

I sincerely hope you enjoy using the faith and prayer principles along with this notebook to discover your destiny through the work of Jesus Christ on the cross. I've always found learning from the Word of God exciting, although, growing up in the church I attended, I saw little joy and much competition within the congregation. The egos there were big, which meant there was a constant need for many to show others how great they were instead of how great God is.

I found that attitude so ugly that most of the time, I did my work in the church as quiet as a mouse. I didn't want anyone looking at me. I wanted to work in silence so that Christ would be displayed through me. However, my silence caused others to take claim for the hard work I had accomplished, leaving me to be a liar every time they bragged about all the hard work they did and the money they spent for projects that I had done.

I could live with that, but I felt that I should tell the truth, yet I would be bragging like all the others. What should I do? I pondered for the longest time. Really the answer was simple, but in those days I made everything complicated. All I had to do was live within my destiny, the work God had called me to do, and I wouldn't have noticed the foolishness around me. I also would have noticed how arrogant I was. Instead, I would have been so absorbed in my work that all would have prospered for the good of the Lord and my work would have been respected, making me a quiet, but loud example for many to follow.

I guess I wasn't much better than they were, maybe worse. But it doesn't matter now. Everything we do is a learning process, so I just moved on and grew wiser in the process. I don't know what problems you may be facing that are holding you back from attaining the dreams God gave you, but if you just center on Christ and the exciting place He has given you in the Body, you will have taken your first step into the land of milk and honey. You are on your way!

This notebook is all about you and keeping you grounded in the work of Jesus Christ that belongs specifically to you! No one else, but you! You are a unique being, and God made you that way. Yet He made you in His image. So you have the ability to do whatever He asks of you, as long as you do it His way.

I realize that for some the following exercises may seem too simple – well, God is simple. We all try to make Him into what we perceive Him to be through our life experiences. It's just natural. That's why we have to retrain our thinking when it comes to the things of God. I find that those who have achieved greatly throughout their lives intellectually have the most difficulty understanding and utilizing Biblical scripture.

They find it difficult to grasp sometimes because they try to understand it with their own reasoning. And why not! They did all their lives and were praised for it. They won awards; got the better jobs, earned more money sometimes than those who weren't as educated, but unfortunately, they don't always get God.

Well, no matter what your background, God understands you may need some time to get the hang of His ways. However, I'm here to represent His compassion and help you get right into His Word and make it work for you today. So have a blast with the prayer exercises while you grow spiritually at the same time. It will bless your heart and those around you. And remember, I'm here if you need me. I'm only an e-mail away. I check my e-mail every half hour or so throughout the day and I can answer you from wherever I am.

In Christ,

Margaret Lukasik
